

The Chair of Epidemiology (TUM) cordially invites you to

INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

GLOBAL WOMEN'S HEALTH – CERVICAL CANCER PREVENTION – THE SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA PERSPECTIVE

23rd and 24th of June 2022

at the TUM Science and Study Center Raitenhaslach near Munich

Cervical Cancer is a preventable disease. Sub-Saharan Africa carries a high burden of cervical cancer disease. Over the course of two days, leading experts will present new knowledge and lessons learned on cervical cancer prevention research and implementation for the sub-Saharan Africa context. The aim is to discuss innovative and feasible methods to reach cervical cancer elimination goals in countries facing a high burden of disease within sub-Saharan Africa.
