

Optogait

A variable connection system which can be used for gait or running analyses. It can be varied from one to approx. 8 m in length and can be used to calculate asymmetries, contact times, running speeds and accelerations for each individual foot.

