

Novel Druckmesssohlen

The Novel pressure measurement soles (Pedar system) are a pressure distribution measurement system that is inserted into the shoes. The forces between the foot and the shoe can be measured in a mobile setting for all test requirements, such as running, climbing stairs or playing soccer.

